Haitian Heritage Museum

“The Only One of Its Kind in the World”

The Haitian Heritage Museum (HHM) is a not for profit organization that is committed to highlighting and preserving Haiti’s rich culture and heritage locally, nationally and internationally. Our goal is to provide a cultural Mecca for Little Haiti where individuals outside of our community and within our community boundaries can come to enjoy beautiful Haitian art, historic artifacts, ethnic sounds of Haitian music, view Haitian films and enjoy a collection of Haitian Literary works. By providing this platform as a linkage to Haitian Americans all over the Diaspora and educating the public about the phenomenal contributions that Haitian Americans made as a people, this will in turn create a legacy for the future generations of young Haitian Americans.

The Haitian Heritage Museum (HHM) is Celebrating the “Month of May”, Haitian Heritage Month. The vibrant culture will be on full display at many locations throughout Miami Dade County. We have partnered with Barnes & Noble Aventura, City of North Miami, and Miami Dade County Public Schools to bring a taste of Haiti to the community. Come out to “Dancin in the District”, in the beautiful Miami Design District on Saturday May 8, 8pm to 10. Also, you’re invited to come and experience the Haitian culture through books, with a book signing on Tuesday May 18, 6pm-10 at Barnes & Noble Aventura with Haitian American, Chef Ron Duprat. In addition, you’ll also enjoy live poetry, and face painting. The Close-out Event happening Saturday May 22, 2010 6pm- 10 will be a Comedy Show featuring Coconut Grove Improv winner Haitian American Comedian Jean Nervil, spoken word artist Mecca aka Grimo and DJ Mike Cooley. You don’t want to miss this cultural expose.

Part of the proceeds from the “Dreams for Haiti” book sales, and beverage sales will go toward helping Haiti’s Libraries recover since the devastating earthquake. You can also visit bn.com/bookfairs to support us online from May 18 to May 22 by entering Bookfair ID 10202901 at checkout.
